

Attachment 2 - Campsites Impacted by Pagami Creek Fire

In addition to changes in quotas, some lakes will have fewer campsites open for use. Some campsites will remain closed until wilderness crews can address erosion and safety concerns. As described above, Forest Service crews will be opening most campsites early in the 2012 season. However, some campsites may remain closed for several seasons. Please be aware if you plan to camp on the following lakes that some campsites will be closed and you may have to travel to the next lake to find an available site. Maps showing the campsites that are currently closed can be found on our web page. These maps will be updated regularly as campsites are opened.
